After learning that a local school needed student dental supplies, one agency was really excited for the opportunity to receive extra kits in January. They had no idea a local school handed out student dental supplies, but were happy they could fulfill the immediate need and would be able to provide those items in the future.

The staff from both the Marshall and Independence campuses were super excited to get these supplies, and the kiddos were, too! "Wow, that's awesome! They did that for us?" was the response from many of the children after receiving the donations. They were so thrilled to know that there is a supportive company out there that helps non-profits like ours. Items such as paper products, school supplies, and personal care items eat up much of our budget, which makes it a challenge to fund other needs at times. The Paper Products Packs, Readin' & Writin' Packs, blankets, food boxes, and Backpacks of Love were such a blessing to us! We are very grateful for the efforts and collaboration of Festival of Sharing and the generous donors that help support this much-needed effort in Missouri. Thank you!
