Chickens and eggs are among the best and lowest-cost sources of quality protein urgently needed by millions of people living in poverty. Heifer's Hatching Hope initiative equips farmers with the tools and expertise needed to start and grow poultry businesses. By connecting producers to markets, farmers increase their income and promote the nutritional value of proteins within their communities. Hatching Hope will improve the nutrition and livelihoods of 100 million people by 2030.

When you give through Festival, you have options on how your gift can be used:

- Support Heifer's work with small-farmer cooperative development in the U.S.
- Select certain animal gifts that can be used for projects globally
- Support Hatching Hope Initiative
- Give to help "Where Needed Most"
